DEDICATION

I dedicate this book to my wife Shrouq, whose continuous support has given me the inspiration to complete this book.

And to the people who have contributed valuable parcels of knowledge to this book. I hope that the reader will find this knowledge helpful to cope with their water issues.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The process of conceptualizing, writing and revising this book has been a collaborative experience involving the efforts and interaction of many people. On the occasion of publishing my first book on water resource management, I would like to extend words of gratitude to my colleagues, past and present, and especially to those people whose support and goodwill have provided me the motivation and encouragement for time and labour committed to complete this edition. This includes the policy makers and key stakeholders of the water sector, who, despite their other commitments, have dedicated their valuable time to the one-to-one discussions and meetings besides other contributions. I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Raed Zahrawi and Howard Wong for their unremitting faith in my vision that has helped contribute to the final content of this edition. I would also like to thank Professor Alex Cheng for the technical review of this book.
