A SUITCASE FROM THE TITANIC

The main character in the book, Edgar Andrew, wrote to his girlfriend: "Josey, I'm embarking on the biggest steamship in the world, but I don't feel any pride, because at this moment I wish the Titanic were lying at the bottom of the ocean..."

In his "A Suitcase from the Titanic" author Enrique Dick takes us into a whirlwind of family history beginning with Samuel and Annie Andrew who arrive from Whitby, Yorkshire, England, to the vast pampas of Argentina, towards the end of the Nineteenth century.

tribulations that living in Argentina brings, to the journeys that the Andrew children have around the world. This book centres mainly around the tragedy of losing his relative Edgar Andrew on the Titanic.

Armed with the extraordinary occurrence of retrieving

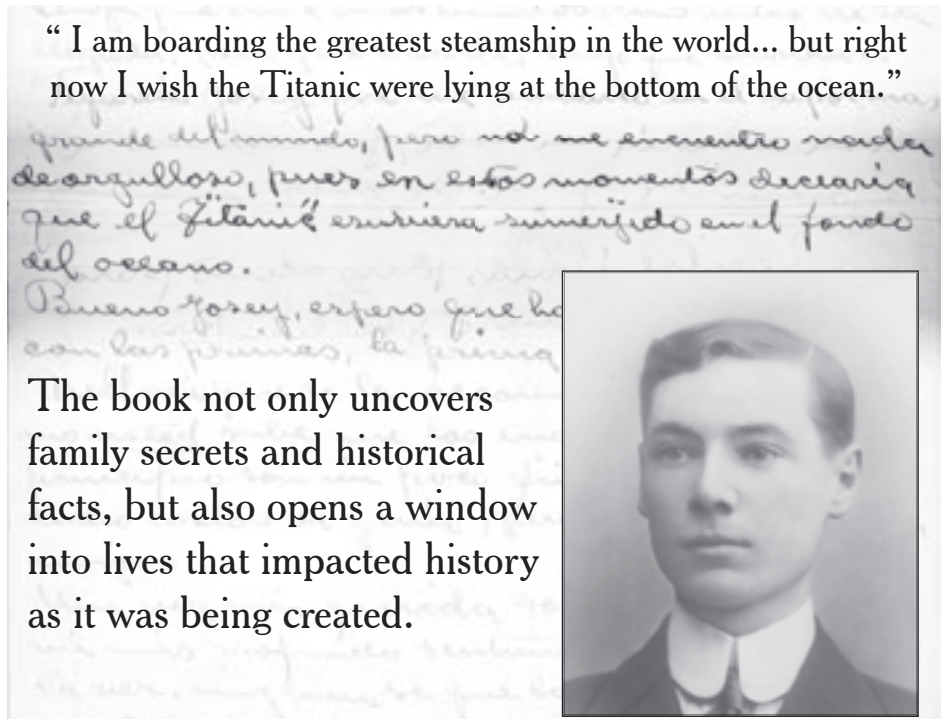

Edgar's small suitcase and its contents from the Titanic, Enrique Dick embarked on a journey of discovery into his maternal family history.

There the Andrew family prospers and grows. Silvano "Alfredo", Isabel, Wilfred, Ethel, Hilda, William and Edgar are born and raised and eventually all of them will have their share of love, adventure and tragedy.

Told by Enrique Dick, this book is based entirely on his family's real life events; from the trials and "I am boarding the greatest steamship in the world... but right now I wish the Titanic were lying at the bottom of the ocean."

The book not only uncovers family secrets and historical facts, but also opens a window into lives that impacted history as it was being created.

About the Author

Enrique Rodolfo Dick was born in 1950 in Argentina. He gained entrance to the Army Military College where he graduated as a second lieutenant, and later on as a Mechanical and Weapons Engineer from the Army University in Buenos Aires. He obtained a degree in Aeronautics at the French Advanced School of Aeronautics and Space (ENSAE) in Toulouse. Upon his return to Argentina in 1986, he worked at the Argentine Armed Forces Institute of Scientific and Technical Research (CITEFA). At the end of 2003 he was promoted to the rank of Major General, and continues to teach at the Military University in Buenos Aires.

In parallel to working on his scientific papers and publications, he produced a bestseller with his first historical novel entitled "In the Wake of The Graf Spee", following it with another novel based on his French-descended uncles time at the front in WWI and another entitled "Sails and Steam" published by the Argentine Naval Institute.

The present book "A Suitcase from the Titanic" was first published in Spanish in 2002 and also became very successful. WIT Press is delighted to offer this fascinating story now in English.
